

Michael S. Nagy
Associate Professor

Department of English
South Dakota State University
Pugsley Hall 412

1936 Orchard Drive
Brookings, SD 57006
Home: (605) 695-4908

Conference Papers:

- “Monstrosity in the Fornaldarsogur.” Presented at the Annual Northern Plains Conference on Early British Literature, Maryville, ND, April 10, 2015.

13, 2005.

- “Old Norse Death and Dying.” 40th

- “Norse Connections.” 33rd Annual International Congress on Medieval Studies.
May 7-10, 1998, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Other Professional Activities:

- Invited Lecture, “Rushing Toward Ragnarok: The Old Norse Thrill of Defeat,”

- Instructor of English Composition, Saint Louis University, September 1993 to May 1998. (I taught both introductory narrative and advanced expository writing courses. In the latter of these I introduced students to methods of library research and to systems of source documentation including MLA and APA formats).
- Instructor of English Literature, Saint Louis University, September 1993 to May 1998. (Examined early English texts, from Beowulf through Shakespearean drama, and situated them within their respective social, political, cultural and literary contexts).
- Research

- Professor Stefan T. Hall, University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, (920)465-2730.
- Professor Nicholas Haydock, University of Puerto Rico, P.O. Box 7061, Mayaguez, PR 00681.

(Others Available Upon Request)